

Data Driven Approaches to Hydrology 2025: Questions and Answers

Introduction to Github

How to close the text editor?

Press Shift and : then x then Enter

Do you have any thoughts/experience on integrating copilot in the github/vscode environment?

I've recently started using copilot (copilot is an AI code developer built into VS code that helps predict what it thinks you're trying to do with the code, so it comes up with lots of suggestions).

Sometimes it can be a bit annoying because it's suggesting things you don't have, but it is very good at understanding the code that you're writing. I do quite like it.